RINGLING BROTHERS COMING

The World's Greatest Shows Will Exhibit in Benton Harbor, July 22, and in Kalamazoo, July 23.

Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows will, on Saturday, July 23, give two performances in Kalamazoo. This will be the only opportunity this year of seeing the best of all circus entertainments. This is the show that amazed New York City with its European company of actors, and its extensive new menagerie. Its parade is the longest and most superb spectacle that ever passed through the streets of any city on earth. On April 3, 1883, the five brothers gave their first performance in their home town, Baraboo, Wis., on the public square. They made their own tent and their own ring properties. The audience sat on planks borrowed from a lumber yard. They had but one horse. From that little one-ring affair to their present stupendous organization, the history of the Ringling Brothers reads like a fairy tale. They began with nothing. They now own the greatest amusement enterprise in all history.

The reason of their success is no secret. It is a peculiar combination of the right kind of talent and a policy of uprightness in dealing with the public. Even during its early days it was a good show. It was small, but it was an earnest endeavor. Without capital the five young men struggled against the bitterest opposition. They won the confidence of the public and have always kept it, because they have always deserved it. A very few years after that first performance their rivals began to sit up and take serious notice when mention of the Ringling Brothers was made. They realized they had an opposing force to compete with what had come to stay. In a few years more the Ringling show took first place among the tent shows of America. There is where it will always stay. It has become the leader in the art of entertainment.

Among the many European features offered this year are the Schuman horses from the Circus Schuman at Berlin. Scheveningen and Frankfurt. Albert Schuman, a trainer of horses, is the most wonderful man in history. He has made ten millions of dollars exhibiting the animals he has trained. Tourists travel many miles out of their way to visit his institutions in Germany. There are fifteen animals in his act. They enter the arena concealed in large beer barrels piled on an immense brewery wagon. They are not discovered by the audience until they kick the heads out of the barrels and jump into the ring. They begin their act by pulling the bugs from kegs, drawing a beer-like fluid from the tap and drinking from the glasses. They roll each other around in barrels. They wait in time to music. They skip the rope and smoke pipes. From the beginning to the end of their act they remain standing on their hind feet.

Another great act is presented by the Saxon trio of the world's strongest men. Two of them form the pillars of a bridge over which passes an automobile with six passengers. Still other novel and great acts are presented by the Lorch family of acrobats from Germany—the great Alexis family of aerialists, Robledo, the Spanish wizard of the wire, the Dutton family of riders, and the greatest company of clowns in the world. The new parade is a marvel of beauty. The new menagerie is a complete collection of animals.

Secrets of Stenographers.

One shudders to think what business secrets may be in the possession of the stenographers of the land. If they could, or would, speak we fear that there would be seismic disturbances of more than local importance.
